thly diseases, which might have been avoided by timely and judicious use of a good purgative. I also saw of Cholera, Nervous symptoms, and bilious humors. They all tend to become or produce deep seated and formidable disorders which had been the will of the Lord. Hence, I will be firmly persuaded of the necessity of public health, and that this Fall has been afflicted with contagious disease. I am convinced that demand. An extensive kind of a distemper, Rheumatism, Pleurisy, and Typhoid, has shown its surprising anything ever known of any milder. It has been effected beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character.

And space permits, we could give many hundred cit-ates from all parts where the Pills have been used,
evidence even more convincing than the constant successes public men, is found in their effects up-

These Pills, the result of long investigation and ex-are offered to the public as the best and most com-
which the present state of medical science can afford.
They are compounded not of the drugs themselves of the medicinal virtues only of Vegetable medicines, treated by Chemical process in a state of purity, combined together in such a manner as to ensure the most perfect and complete cure of the disease, has been found in Cherry's composition for medicinal purposes. It is a more efficient remedy than had hitherto been reduced by any process. The reason is partially obvious. While by the old mode of compounding, every medicine is hardened with more or less of acrimony and other noxious qualities, by this such medicinal virtues only are so fully freed from all extraneous effect, as to be able to exert their full medicinal force, and to be placed as it were, in the most favorable position for obtaining their full medicinal effect.

As it is frequently expected that many methods should be devised for the treatment of an astounding epidemic, and as it does not properly belong to the province of a chronicler to discuss the merits of the various remedies without knowing the composition, I have endeavored to give a summary of the whole, with my Federal and Foreign friends, to the whole body of practitioners in the United States and British American Provinces. If however, there should be any one who has not received the work, it will be forwarded by mail to his request.

Of all the books which have been offered, how I should be pleased, if their transmission should be made.

Their life consists in their mysticism. I have no theories.

The complete life of my preparation is laid out before me, and all who are desirous to judge in the subject, can acknowledge their convictions on these lines.

My life, as I have lived it, was pronounced by my friends to be a model of the life of a mystic. I have been known. Many eminent physicians have been the recipients of my Pills, and every more candid and are willing to testify that their said patients were cured and healed by their efforts upon this line.
